

Scientific Operations Manager - NIAID/DIR/LAD - CR-DE

If selected for this position, you will perform the following duties:

You will serve as the principal advisor on scientific operational matters to the lab chief, Laboratory of Allergic Diseases (LAD).

You will apply scientific expertise and knowledge of biomedical research methods and concepts relative to health investigations in working closely with senior management to formulate and implement plans and policies for the effective conduct of laboratory scientific programs and to develop, evaluate, and direct operational projects and activities for the efficient and effective management and use of laboratory resources.

FYI – LAD (Dr. Metcalfe's Lab) is recruiting to back-fill for the scientific operations manager (SOM) that just left. SOM Position opened on Friday, 8/07 and closes this Friday, 8/14. Please share posting (link below) with folks whom you know might be interested and who would make a good fit as a SOM.
